patently similar, world wide as also pains of oppression and damages were more local and National but slightly less for international abuse except press regional movements based on religions, faiths, ethics, not in parity with the powerful people, entities, military warlords and superpowers or even a National

Civ. Action No. 06-685-SLR

MEMORANDUM ORDER

At Wilmington this 11th day of April, 2007, having screened the case pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915;

IT IS ORDERED that the complaint is dismissed without prejudice as malicious and frivolous pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915, for the reasons that follow:

1. Background. Plaintiff Kamal Karna Roy ("Roy") a/k/a Jungle Democracy filed this civil rights action on November 7, 2006. (D.I. 1) He appears pro se and was given leave to proceed in forma pauperis status pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915. (D.I. 11) Plaintiff filed this lawsuit against more than thirty defendants, including God, Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court John G. Roberts, Jr., U.S. President George Bush, the prime minister of India, the United States, various United States agencies, federal officials and judges, numerous agencies and officials for the State of New York, insurance companies and financial institutions, Kentucky Fried Chicken, the New York Times, and private individuals. The complaint appears to be a "cut and paste" of other lawsuits filed by Roy and it contains numerous handwritten, scribbled notes in its margins.

plaintiff attempts to proceed. He refers to religion, politics, "jungle democracy", and workers' compensation. The complaint does not adequately apprise the defendants of their alleged wrongdoing. Moreover, in the rare case when a sentence is intelligible, the allegations fail to state a cause of action. For example, plaintiff complains of actions taken by George Bush during his presidency, but those complaints do not rise to the level of a viable claim. Having said that, for the most part, the complaint is unintelligible. There are handwritten notations throughout the complaint and seemingly unrelated phrases are interspersed throughout the document. Indeed, the court is unable to recognize any cognizable claim.

9. Conclusion. The complaint is dismissed with prejudice as frivolous and malicious pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B) and § 1915A(b)(1). See Jungle Democracy v. Bush, No. 06-cv-505 (E.D.Pa. Feb. 14, 2006), aff'd, No. 06-1911 (3d. Cir. June 2, 2006)(complaint that is irrational and incomprehensible with no cognizable claim or intelligible sentence is dismissed with prejudice)
